Qualtrics Driven XM

Leverage X+O Data To Win The Talent Challenge

HR departments are facing universal change, centered on recruiting, hiring, and retaining top talent. Leveraging the power of Qualtrics, OhZone helps your HR department transform your most valued asset—people—into an analytical resource, capable of contributing to enterprise growth, profitability, and more.

Know the What, Why & How: In the example above, OhZone visualizes experiential data so you can pinpoint areas of improvement opportunity. Below, X+O data is used to forecast Head Count. In a single click, you can see how changes in staffing effect revenue.

Insights Made Actionable

Using the Qualtrics XM Platform, your organization can regularly obtain experience data (X data) from employees. OhZone allows you to consider X data in relation to operational data (O data). As a result, you'll see new opportunities to reduce churn, improve management, save on labor costs, and much more.

OhZone's intuitive dashboard highlights hotspots of focus, opportunity and concern. IT customers benefit from data driven reports that group vision/strategy opinions from custom-selected teams.

A Game-Changer for Your Business

OhZone offers you the opportunity to:

- Survey employees with enterprise improvement action in mind
- Visualize and understand the inter-relationship between sentiment and operational outcomes
- Improve EX in the now, plus use the tool to plan effectively for the future
